Theron O. Loomis
Delevan Lake Institute
May. 12th 1870.

The only parts of the inscription about which DWP is not certain are "Lake" and "70." The "70" is as near to certainty as one could hope for; the "Lake" could be "Life" or could be something else, possibly a word beginning with "T." No, I see by a comparison of the first letter of "Lake" with the first letter of "Loomis" that the letter is the same capital "L."

When was Hiram in Felton; how is one to interpret paragraph two of the EPLL biography of Hiram — where did EPLL get her information.
